Toei Kyoto Studio Park's movie set, which recreates a village from the Edo and Meiji periods of 150 years ago, is actually used for shooting Japanese movies and television "jidaigeki" period dramas. It is a theme park where you can observe open sets and special events, and a variety of attractions, such as an exciting ninja show using 3D projection mapping and superhero character shows. Time slip to an Edo village, and try dressing up as a ninja or samurai!
